KUUMO
DESIGN FURNITURE

*"Launched in September 2022,
with the KUUMO Design line,
I aimed to create a bold
new collection with a premium design and exceptionally refined finishes."*

Olivier SANTINI (designer)

Designed by Olivier Santini and his product design studio MW DESIGNER FURNITURE, KUUMO Design furniture subtly combines color and transparency to create pieces that play with light and space. Thanks to the use of tempered glass or cast PMMA (Altuglas) panels, our armchairs and sofas appear to float, offering a visually light and elegant integration, even with generously proportioned and exceptionally comfortable seats.

Vibrant colors and transparent materials bring an electrifying and modern design touch while harmonizing perfectly with interiors of various styles. The contemporary aesthetic of our creations, combined with a subtle vintage touch, allows for great stylistic versatility. The independent cushions, appearing to float in mid-air thanks to the transparent panels, add a sense of lightness to each piece.

Each model is crafted in collaboration with artisans to ensure impeccable quality and longevity, preserving its brilliance over time while offering unmatched comfort and exceptional durability. Our innovative foam seat design, suitable for both outdoor and indoor use, guarantees perfect longevity.

Furthermore, the customization of each piece-whether through the choice of colors, engraving, printing on the panels, fabric options for the cushions, or seat dimensions-transforms every armchair or sofa into a unique object.

Our furniture, both functional and aesthetic, is far more than just seating. These are true works of art, collectible pieces that adapt to your space while bringing a sculptural dimension.

Made in France in collaboration with local artisans, KUUMO Design products reflect exceptional craftsmanship and impeccable finishing quality, ensuring each creation follows a sustainable and timeless design approach.

Our products are designed for both residential and HORECA markets.

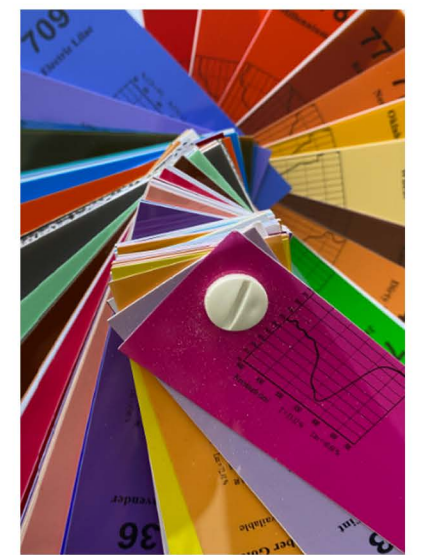

PREMIUM MATERIALS

GLASS PANELS FOR INDOOR FURNITURE

MW furniture with glass panels is recommended for indoor use. These panels are available in clear tempered diamond glass as well as colored glass. Each piece can be individually customized, signed, and marked with a unique identification number, ensuring perfect traceability. The glass colors we have in stock include transparent, blue, brown, green, purple, red, and sun.

On request, we offer up to 100 different colors for the glass panels of our armchairs, allowing for the creation of unique, custom-made pieces.

PMMA PANELS FOR INDOOR AND OUTDOOR FURNITURE

Furniture with PMMA panels can be used both indoors and outdoors. PMMA offers exceptional transparency of 92% and is easy to maintain. Available in 3 stock colors, PMMA is also highly impact-resistant, UV-stable (with a 30-year UV warranty), and lighter than glass.

In addition to its aesthetic and functional qualities, PMMA is a recyclable material and presents a significant ecological advantage: it can be reused. By simply heating and melting it, PMMA can be reshaped and given a new form, contributing to an environmentally friendly approach.

The PMMA colors we have in stock are: transparent, smoked bronze, and smoked gray-blue. On request, we offer up to 25 different colors for the PMMA panels of our armchairs, allowing the creation of unique and custom pieces.

THE SEATING OF OUR MW MODELS

FOAM CUSHIONS

We use HR 30 and HR 40 foam for furniture designed for indoor use.

For furniture intended for outdoor use, we use open-cell foam. Open-cell foam has the advantage of not retaining water during rainy weather, allowing the seat to dry quickly.

TPU CUSHIONS

Our TPU seating, composed of 4 to 7 independent cushions, offers an electrifying and modern design with transparent and colored finishes.

This innovative and durable material ensures maximum longevity. Thanks to air pressure, each cushion can be adjusted to your desired comfort level, while adding a unique brightness and aesthetic appeal.

TPU is an eco-friendly material developed in the 1950s for industrial applications. It combines the flexibility of elastomers with the strength of rigid plastics, allowing it to deform and return to its original shape without deterioration.

The TPU cushions are available in 6 colors.

FABRICS

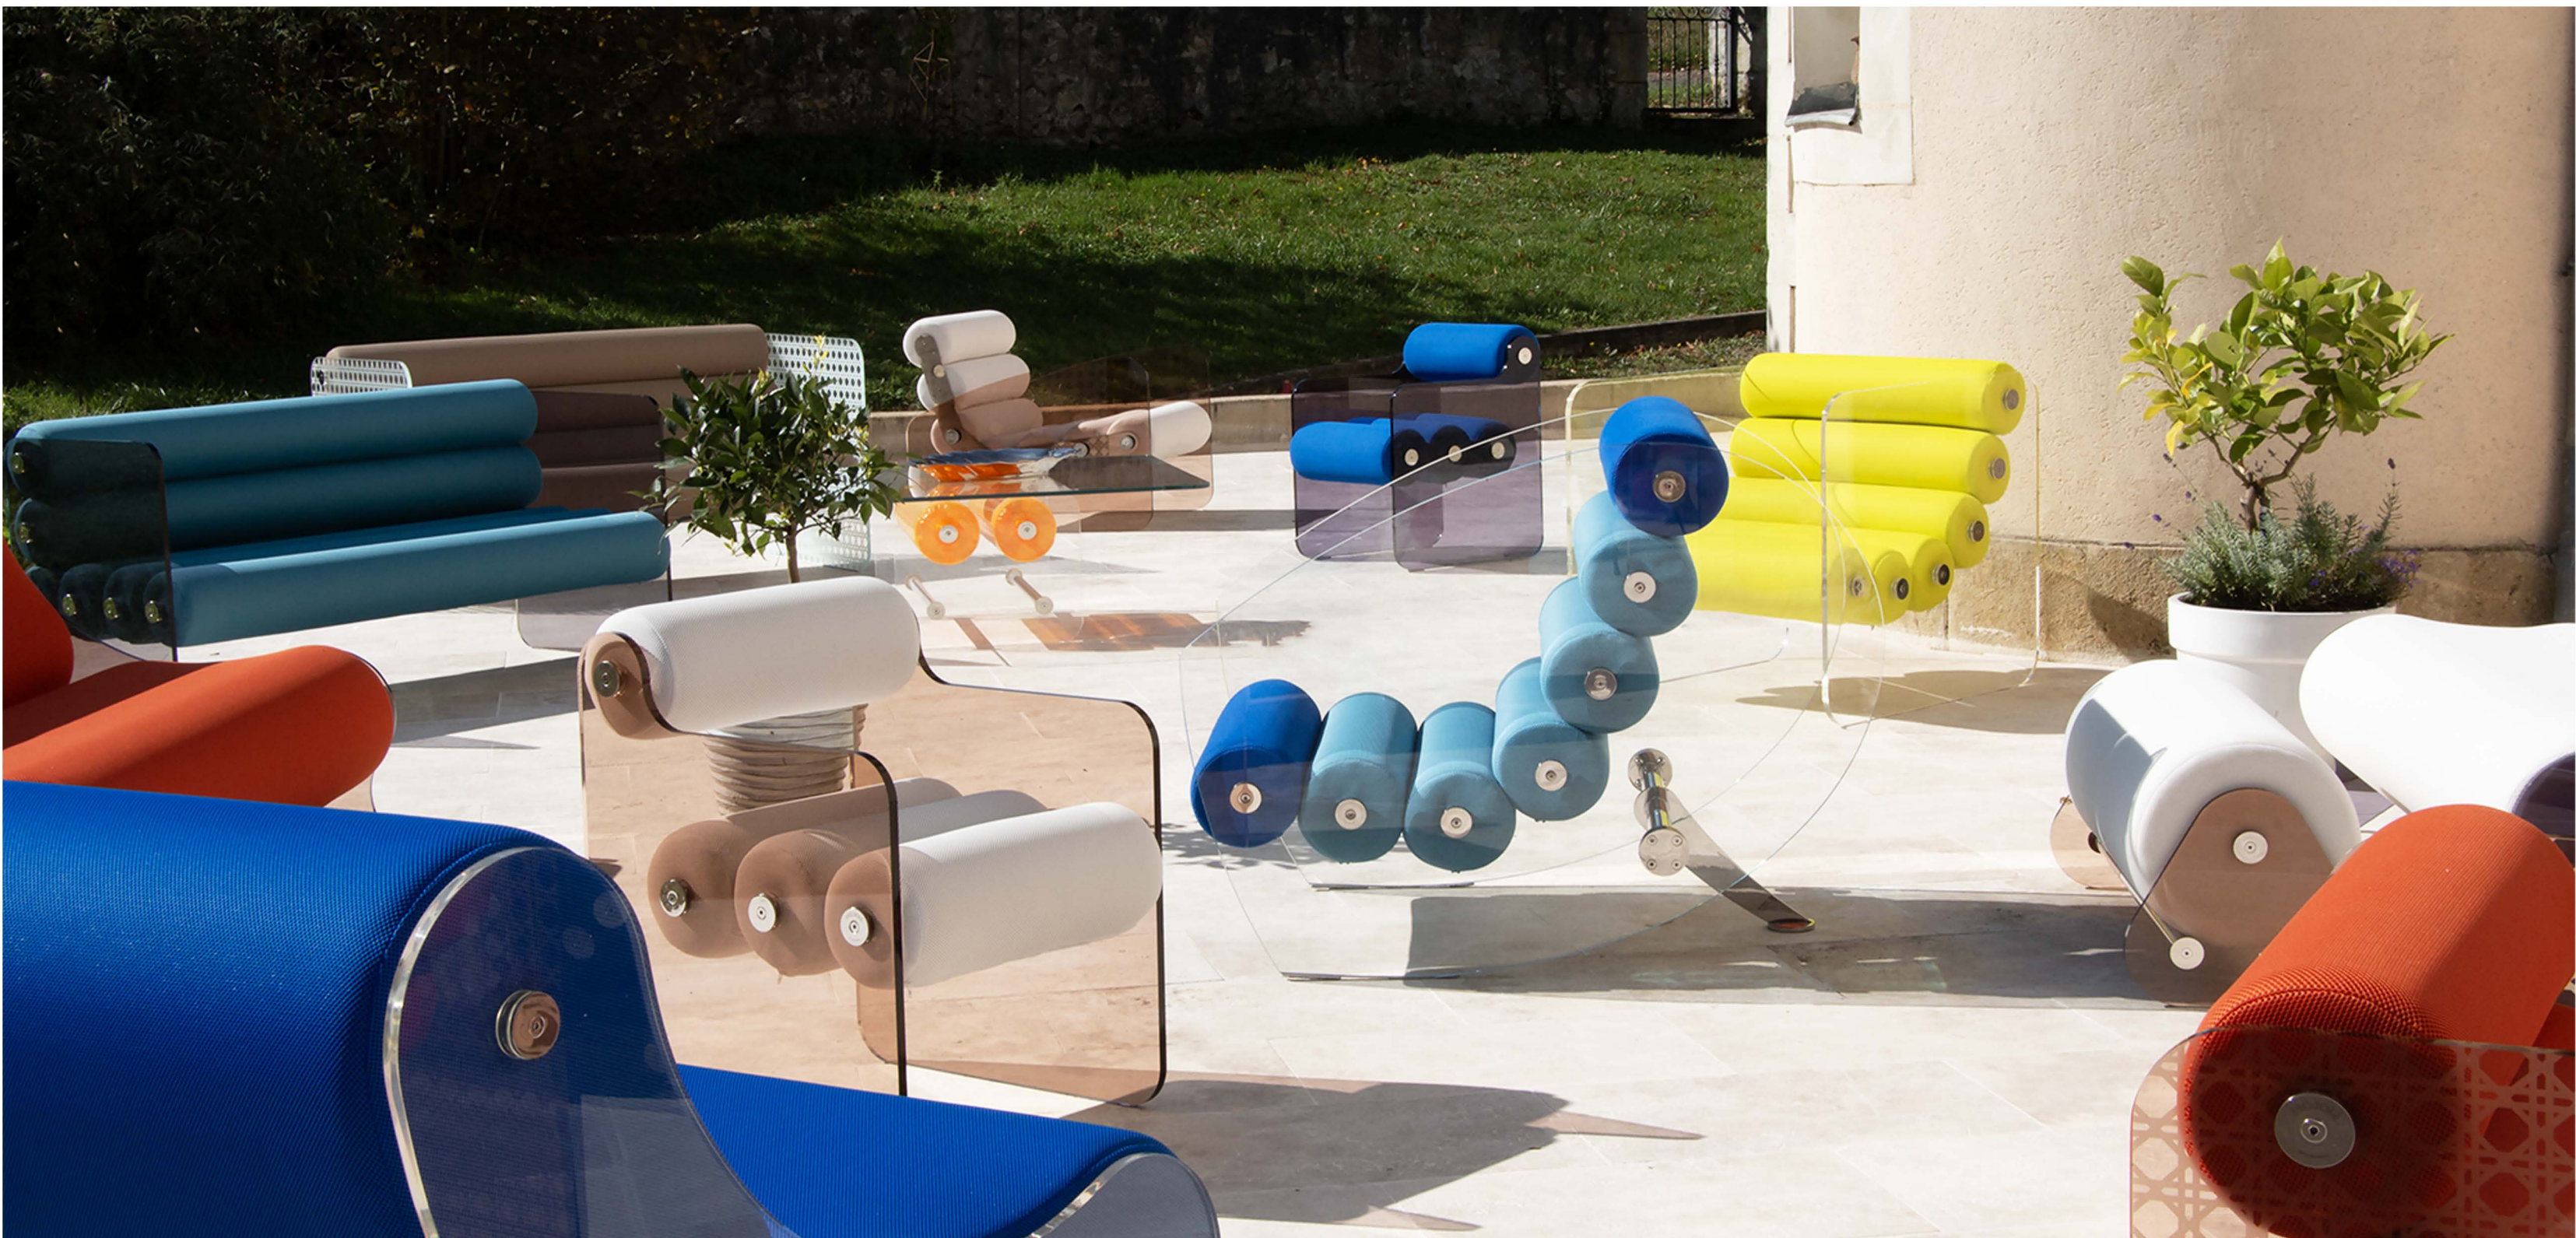

MW DESIGNER FURNITURE offers two fabric models available in stock: Gabriel’s Runner fabric and Soshagro fabric.

We also offer the option to create cushion covers for the seating of our armchairs and sofas using the fabric or leather of your choice. Simply provide us with the desired reference. Since each cushion is independent, it is possible to customize each element with different colors or patterns, creating a truly unique and personalized seating experience.

CUSTOMIZATIONS

The glass or PMMA panels of our armchairs and sofas can be transformed into true works of art, enhancing both our MW creations and the spaces they occupy.

Our MW pieces can be customized with a personal artwork, an artist's creation, or even a logo or brand. We offer 5 customization techniques.

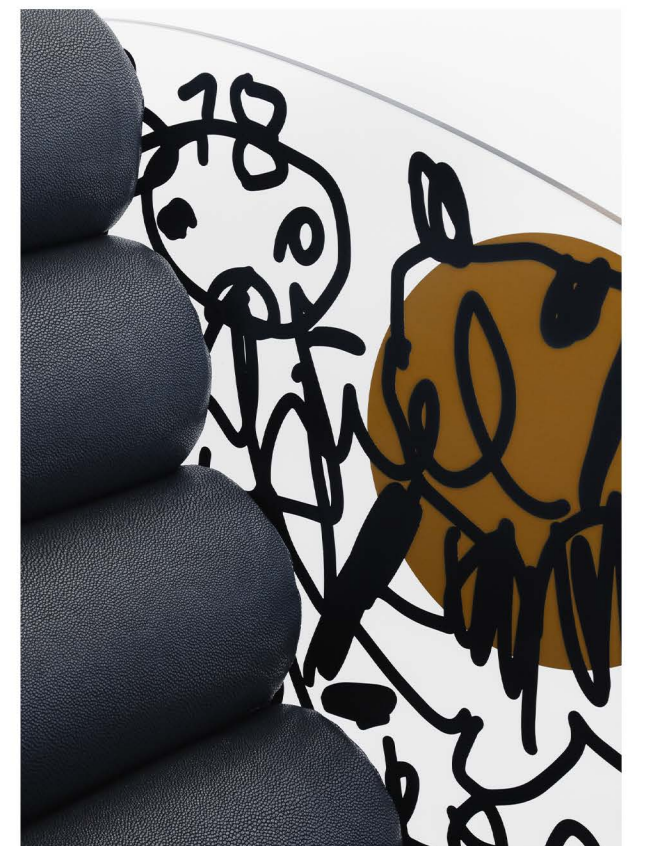

LAMINATED GLASS WITH PRINTED FILM

Printing via interlayer film for laminated glass: This process involves printing a pattern or illustration onto a plastic film (often PVB or EVA), which is then placed between two layers of glass during the lamination process. The film is bonded between the glass layers, protecting the image while providing an aesthetic effect and ensuring the safety of the laminated glass. This method is often used for color illustrations and custom designs.

PRINTED TEMPERED GLASS

Ceramic printing on tempered glass: This process involves digital ceramic printing or screen printing on tempered glass. The ceramic ink is applied to the surface of the glass and fuses with it during the tempering phase (heating at high temperatures followed by rapid cooling), ensuring a durable, scratch-resistant, and fade-resistant print. This method is ideal for complex patterns and long-lasting applications.

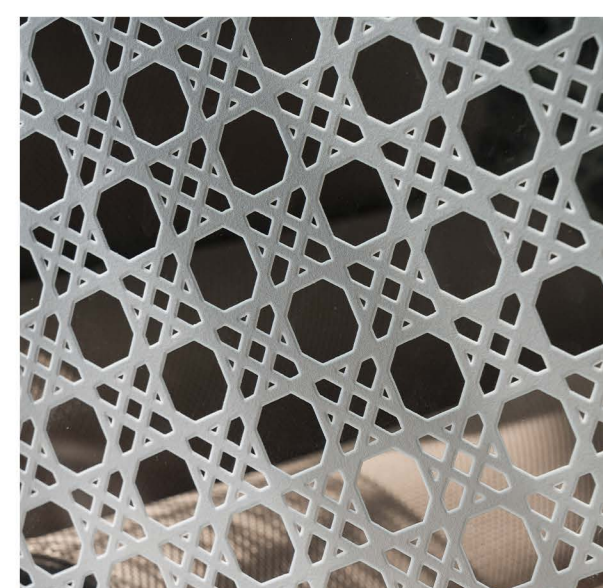

ENGRAVING OR SANDBLASTING DECORATION

Sandblasting Engraving: The sandblasting engraving process involves projecting a high-pressure jet of abrasive particles onto the glass surface, creating patterns or textures. This technique can be applied in two ways:

On a single side of tempered glass, where sandblasting creates matte and subtle patterns, adding a decorative dimension without altering the glass's transparency.

Between two layers of laminated glass, where the pattern is engraved on one of the glass layers before assembly with an interlayer (PVB or EVA). This approach protects the design between the two layers, offering enhanced durability while preserving the desired aesthetic effect.

These techniques provide an elegant and durable decorative touch to any type of space.

SANDBLASTING ON PMMA

For PMMA, the sandblasting process is similar to that used for glass. A jet of compressed air loaded with abrasive particles is projected onto the PMMA surface, creating raised patterns or textures. This process is used to customize PMMA while preserving its translucency or transparent effect. These techniques add an elegant and durable decorative touch to any type of indoor or outdoor space.

PANEL CUSTOMIZATION

It is possible to customize the shape of the panels upon request.

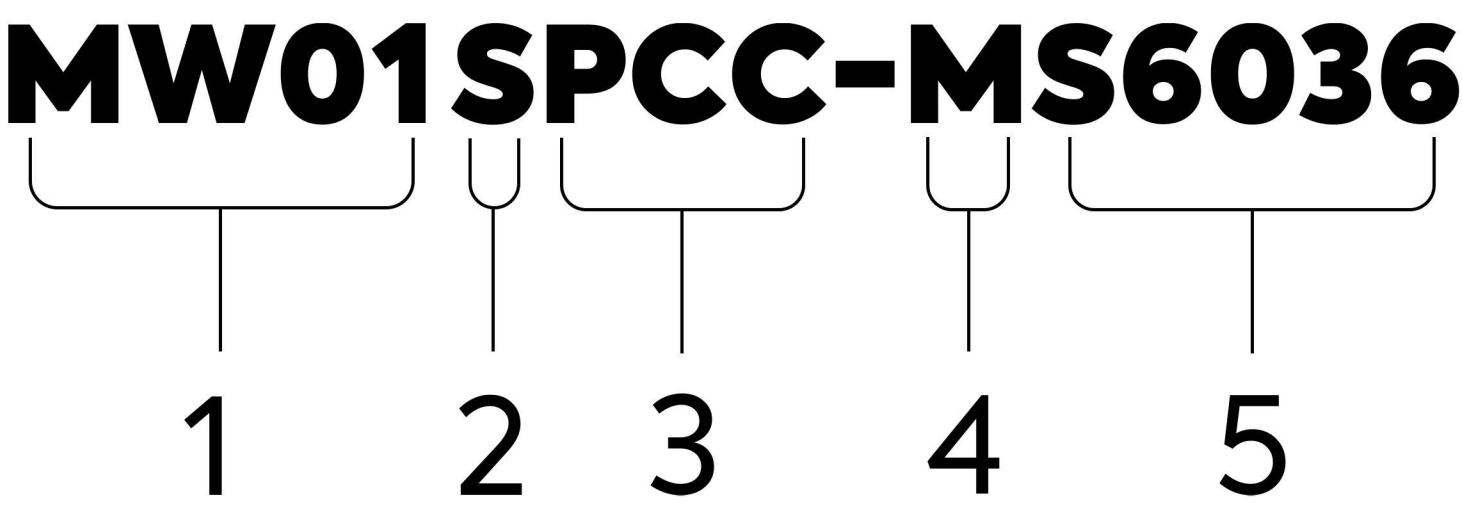

Jane, a client in the United States and a collector of designer furniture, asked us to customize her MW02 armchair by shaping the panels to perfectly follow the contour of the seat.

From these collaborations arise unique furniture creations that are also true collector's pieces in limited editions.

NEP is a French painter specializing in Street Art with international visibility. His creative work is an endless inner adventure where he unconsciously conveys his dreams and anxieties in each composition. This artist works en plein air and does not question his subject. He allows his sensations to flow freely. This is what drives him, and it is what you will find in each of his limited creations.

The work 'Interface(s), the result of a collaboration between MW and the French artist NEP, merges contemporary aesthetics with artistic vitality. NEP chose to integrate two distinct creations on the surfaces of the armchair: on one side, he placed his painting, while on the other, he initiated a process of erasure, symbolizing the transformation and dialogue between art and design.

The seat cushions, made of foam, are covered in green vegan leather from Soshagro, perfectly matching the hue of the surfaces. This modern design harmoniously fits into any type of interior. Combining exceptional comfort with a unique character, this lounge chair serves as both a true haven of relaxation and an exclusive collector's piece, making it a complete work of art. The work 'Interface(s)' is a limited edition of 20 copies.

Leah Kirsch, an American artist who breathes creativity. It's no surprise that she has expanded her talents beyond clothing and added unique works of art to her ever-growing list of offerings. Her pieces are adorned with her signature and handwritten messages meant to move or provoke thought.
