Thanks to the combination of its innovative autolift technology and synchronous mechanism, the Streamo swivel office chair automatically adjusts to any body weight.

Height adjustable lumbar support

The optionally available, variable lumbar support provides targeted support for the lumbar region of the back.

Synchronous mechanism with autolift system

The backrest resistance provided by the synchronous mechanism automatically adjusts to body weight.

Seat depth adjustment

The seat depth adjustment system ensures optimised adjustment to the thigh contact area.

Clothes hanger and headrest

The optional headrest provides support and ensures relaxation. It can be additionally equipped with a clothes hanger.

The Streamo office swivel chair with synchronous mechanism promotes healthy seating posture. Individual adjustment options and a modern design make the Streamo an ideal choice for working from home.

Highest seating comfort

The synchronous mechanism flexibly connects the backrest and seating surface. This means that the office swivel chair follows the movements of the body and eases the strain on the spine.

Height adjustable lumbar support

With its optionally available variable lumbar support, the backrest adapts specifically to the spine and offers optimum comfort even after hours of sitting.

Innovative synchronous mechanism

The synchronised mechanism offers weight adjustment that can be set manually in six stages to deliver ideal support to the lumbar spine.

Flexible accessories

The optional 4D-adjustable armrest (height, width and depth) with swivel mechanism and soft polyurethane inlay for individual adjustment.

Siena

SOF040300
2.5-seater

Leg frame: white Leg frame: black

The attractive colour variants accentuate the rounded look of the Siena sofa programme, while the optional two-tone design lends the pieces a special charisma. The contrast between the clearly contoured base in the area of the leg frames and the distinctly rounded upholstery of the seat and backrest surfaces creates a pleasant tension. The upholstery is kept tight to ensure perfect seating comfort.

SOF050500
Recliner

Runner frame: silver Runner frame: Black

With its clear design vocabulary, the Como sofa series is a particular favourite for lovers of stylishly timeless design. The slanted back section loosens up the straight lines and creates a comfortable sitting experience. The tightly upholstered seat retains its shape, even under heavy use. The optional cushions add a lighter touch to the straight lines and inject a beautifully contrasting colourfulness.

Leg frame

- 1-seater | 2-seater | 2.5-seater | 3-seater | Recliner, metal leg frame, black matte or silver

Base material/upholstery

- Supporting parts made of solid hardwood and wood composites, surfaces lined with padded cardboard
